

BIOTECH WORKFORCE NETWORK
Solutions for a Growing Demand

Ahead of the Curve

RESPONDING TO THE DYNAMIC BIOTECH SECTOR

Bay Area biotech companies have discovered a new approach to building a competitive workforce that meets their growing demands.

BIOTECH WORKFORCE NETWORK SOLUTIONS FOR A GROWING DEMAND

Who are we?

Biotech Workforce Network members are experts in the workforce development needs of the biotech community. Our growing membership includes the workforce investment boards of Alameda and San Mateo County, Skyline and Ohlone Community Colleges, Opportunities Industrialization Center West, Inc., Gruber & Pereira Associates, the San Mateo County Central Labor Council and a host of Bay Area Biotech companies.

What's our mission?

Workforce development is the art of understanding both economic trends and the needs of the business community, to create a homegrown workforce that can compete in the global marketplace. The Biotech Workforce Network accomplishes this mission by creating public-private partnerships that recruit, assess, and train workers for the booming biotech sector. These partnerships maximize public funding with private sector support to create the best possible, cost-effective employment and training solutions.

What can we do for you?

If you are a Bay Area biotech company in need of new workers, or would like to upgrade the skills of your current workforce, let our experts build a customized recruitment, assessment, and training solution for you. Bay Area job seekers can discover the exciting benefits of working in the biotech sector.

“The Biotech Workforce Network stayed ahead of the market demands understanding that an industry trained skilled workforce can help grow the business and outlast the competition.”

Sandi Woods
Operations Manager
Genencor, A Danisco Company

